When are the skateboard parks going to open in Campbell? I thought at least one of them would be open by now.

CURIOUS

Editor's note: According to a spokesman for the Campbell Skateboard Park on Bascom avenue they plan to open between May 1 and 15. That park, as the one on Winchester Boulevard has been delayed because of the rains. I tried to contact someone from Winchester Skateboard Park for two days to get their estimated opening date but couldn't get a reply.

My child submitted a science fair project for his class and received a second place ribbon in the school competition. I am upset because, after all the work, that second prize ribbon did not even have his name printed on the back. And the ribbon did not even indicate it was for the science fair. I feel like taking the ribbon back to the teacher.

DISGUSTED

I am so sick of hearing about the girl wrestler. Most people do not know the facts. I have no concern over whether or not she wrestles but the whole thing as far as I can see is a moral issue, not the wrestling itself. The rules of the league, or the state, I'm not sure which, states that you must weigh in shoulder to shoulder with your challenger in the nude. This rule was put in so no one could cheat on their weight. Normally, I'm very much in favor of accepting athletes on their ability whatever their sex may be.

A TOMBOY

Editor's note: The "weigh in" issue was probably the most easily settled problem and in this case a pair of leotards reportedly settled that difficulty. The traditional way of weighing in isn't cast in concrete and certainly isn't a crucial part of the sport. The two real issues were a concern over possible injury to the girl and/or how the boys would feel about engaging in this contact sport with a girl.

May I say "Bravo" to Sandra Sofris in reference to her husband Hal. We need to buy several prescriptions every month and have bought from Hal since he became owner of Campbell Drugs. No other drug store for us. We are with you, Hal.

I couldn't believe that self-serving letter you had in the PRESS from the wife of a local druggist who got in trouble. The way she made it sound, he should get a prize or something for losing his license. Personally, I don't think the

A sticky problem on Latimer ave. Solution near ..good 'shoe'

If you think negotiating Latimer avenue, between Winchester and First st., has been a problem by car lately, you should try it on foot. Or, better yet, by a motorcycle. Sandy Buchanan was visiting the post office last week and got a stone or two in her shoe. The rains put a damper on plans by Piazza Paving Company to lay a new strip of asphalt on the heavily traveled street. Tuesday morning the firm announced they would begin final work on Wednesday, if the rains hold off. Work should be completed by Friday afternoon. When workmen started on the heater remix operation on Latimer the city received a rash of calls from concerned residents who thought the present grooves in the street and loose pavement was the finished product. Actually, says Dave Valkenaar, that is half the project. In future street refurbishing projects, he added, both the remix and surfacing steps will be carried out in the same operation.

School closing report

Board on the hot seat

By PAT SAFFORD

A STAFF RECOMMENDATION that would close five Campbell elementary schools in the next two years got short shift from those crowding the Monroe School cafeteria last week. And school trustees were also highly critical of that "two page report."

Under the plan presented by Superintendent Walt Hauss, Dover and Quito schools would close this September with Moorpark, Cypress and tentatively Capri to close the following year. Monroe junior high students would be bused to Campbell Junior high and an alternative school, concentrating on the 3-R's, would be established, probably at Castlemont School.

Other schools would be eyed for closure beginning in the 1980-81 school year when enrollment falls below 350.

THE SCHOOL BOARD is scheduled to take action on those recommendations tonight, March 9, at a 7:30 p.m. meeting at Monroe.

Last week some officials made it clear they weren't happy with the staff report.

"I'm totally confused as to what's going on here," Trustee Gordon Abbott said at the start of the marathon meeting. "I came to the meeting with the idea I'd get the administration's finalized recommendation and supporting facts to sustain that recommendation." Instead, he added, trustees received a two page report without substantiation that night. Trustees Jennie Vaughn, Dr.

Robert King and George Baker also commented on the lack of information given trustees.

Following the turbulent session trustees scheduled a study session Tuesday to get that information. An executive session was also set up for Monday night to discuss personnel matters.

Baker wanted to know what brought about changes from the original report issued by staff, including the fact that Sherman Oaks, originally slated for closing, was not on the list.

HAUSS EXPLAINED that enrollment has remained fairly constant at Sherman Oaks and that just three students are presently bused into that school.

The new recommendation to consider Capri for closing instead of San Tomas came as a result of a meeting with 100 San Tomas parents, Ken Meinecke reported. The only fact in favor of Capri, he said, is the fact they have a newer plant. Other considerations, such as zoning of surrounding property and the Quito Little League field, give San Tomas the edge. A meeting with Capri parents was set for Wednesday night to give them a chance to respond.

The alternative school proposal was also new but Hauss said it had been brought up at all three public forums held last month. The plan is to open a "back to the basics" school in September of 1978.

Dover School, originally considered for closing in future years, came to the top of the list, along with Quito, in the latest report. Hauss explained, "It is apparent that (enrollment) decline (at Dover) is going to be much more dramatic than we had anticipated."

TRUSTEES ASKED FOR public response to the latest proposals. And they got it. The overwhelming majority of speakers were opposed to either closings in general or their school closure in particular.

Julie Stevenson, 1742 McBain ave., suggested the district might be able to save the $50,000 per school (savings from each closing) by sharing custodial help between two schools, sharing custodial help and having parents volunteer for office help.

Al Moore, 1400 E. Campbell ave., was a spokesman for

The top of the parade to you

Getting in the swing of things for Campbell's first stationary St. Patrick's Day Parade is Dave Fletcher, also known as The Leprechaun. The red bearded CB'er is in charge of the three-day event March 17-19 at The Factory with dancing, entertainment, auctions with all proceeds going to the American Cancer Society. The parade, set for 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday, March 18, is unusual. The participants will stand still while parade goers move to see each attraction. Fletcher hopes to get the parade entered in the Guinness Book of World Records, he says. So far he expects most of the Campbell Union High School District marching bands, a unicycle drill team and more than a dozen floats, including four commercial entries. The parade route is between Harrison and Third street on Campbell avenue.

Campos picked to head valley training board

Campbell's Dan Campos will be heading up the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board and its $50 million budget and 80 employees, it was announced last Friday.

The local man, who serves on the Campbell Planning Commission, was picked from a field of 179 candidates to replace former Executive Director Al Pinon who resigned last September 30. The search for his replacement began shortly after.

Campos, 46, has submitted his resignation as Affirmative Action Officer for the City of San Jose. He expects to take over his new post before the end of March.

The field of candidates for the post was originally narrowed to six for interviews with the Board of Directors, which includes Campbell councilman Rusty Hammer. The six were narrowed to two finalists last month and Campos was picked after further interviews were held.

The board, formerly known as the Manpower Board, allocates about $12.5 million to organizations for job training and placement annually. In addition $37 million was allocated to local government and non-profit agencies this year for public service jobs.

A graduate of San Jose state university, Campos is currently a candidate for a master's degree in administration of justice at the university.

The post, which has been filled by Acting Director Dino Pecoraro, pays up to $31,532 annually. Campos' salary wasn't revealed. Pecoraro, who was one of the two finalists for the job, will stay on as operations officer.

Campos and his wife, Anita, are the parents of two grown children and live at 819 Chapman drive.

School closure plans spark criticism from audience

Dover School parents.

"You can close a half dozen schools," he declared, "and my property taxes won't go down." He also made a plea for the 120 Hamilton School students who were bussed to Dover this year after their school was closed. "They were told this would be a final move for them," he told trustees.

Dover parents were the first to propose an alternative school, said Cathy Murray, 28 N. Midway ave., wondering why Dover wasn't considered for this plan. She asked trustees to speed up plans for that school so Quito and Dover parents would have some alternative this fall.

LOU PORTER, 997 Westmont court, said he attended all three forums. "The community has had no alternatives brought before us," he charged. He called on trustees to mandate the administration to come up with an alternative to closure.

Attorney Blaine Fields, representing a group of Cypress parents, said his clients obtained more than 600 signatures in 72 hours after they heard of the closure plan. The parents demand the plan be stopped so a citizens committee can be formed to consider other alternatives.

The plan to move Monroe students to Campbell junior high didn't go over well with one trustee. Campbell would have more additions and alterations made in 1978-79, under the proposal, with Monroe students transferred in September of 1979. Enrollment, after the consolidation, would total 1,023 students.

"You mean you're going to crowd 1,000 students in one school with 500 in the other?" Trustee King asked Hauss. Assistant Superintendent Meinecke reported staff had originally planned to equalize enrollment between Campbell junior high and Rolling Hills (500 students). But parents don't want their children bussed from Santa Clara to Los Gatos, he explained.

JOAN YAMAMOTI, 160 Douglas ave., told trustees parents had not been given sufficient notice of the closure plans. The first notice was sent Jan. 31, she said, and the first forum held six days later.

Hauss reported earlier that staff had been studying school closure plans since July of 1977 and that discussions about the rapidly declining enrollment and ways to deal with it had been going on for several years.

The local district has lost 4,188 students in the last 10 years.

It's been raining buckets

Campbell has had more than two and a half times the rainfall for last year so far and there is still almost four months to go.

The last storm dumped 1.75 inches bringing the season total to 20.15 as of Tuesday, March 7 at 8 a.m. and more rains were expected by Thursday.

That total is almost double the normal season to date, 11.82 inches, and almost four times that of last year at this time, 5.60 inches.

Three to blame for $40,000 Camden fire

ALL THREE STUDENTS involved in the $40,000 blaze which swept the biology room of Camden High School on October 17 have been apprehended, Ernie Lee, dean of students, announced Monday.

Two of the students, all 15 years old, are in custody in Juvenile Hall and the third was cited and released.

The fire, which swept through the room shortly after midnight last October was apparently the result of a prank that backfired.

According to Lee, one of the boys reported he had set fire to clothing which was sticking out of one of the outside lockers the evening of Oct. 16. When that clothing began to burn the boys got scared and each got a mouthful of water from a nearby fountain which they tried to spit into the locker. They left, feeling the fire had been extinguished, and reportedly waited on the grounds of a nearby church for 20 minutes where they could watch the locker.

THE FIRST ALARM on the fire came in at 12:09 the next morning. The locker fire had burned through the wall of the building.

Lee, who solved the case, said there is no connection with the fire last August which destroyed the girl's showers and locker rooms. That blaze was also set.

One of the boys was arrested at school last week and the second was already in Juvenile Hall on another charge.

The third boy reportedly "dodged" Lee for several hours Friday but was picked up by police on another charge over the weekend.

Lee added that the parents of the trio may be held financially responsible for the damages.

THE QUICK REACTION of another Camden student last year averted a similar locker fire from escalating into

According to Lee, about a month after the biology room fire he was at a school dance when a student came by and told him, "I smell smoke." Lee investigated and found a locker "really burning" on the corner of one building near the physics room. That blaze was extinguished before fire crews could arrive.

Here comes the Easter Bunny

The Easter Bunny will be making its third appearance in Campbell on Saturday, March 25 at the Easter Egg Hunt and Bonnet Parade Contest sponsored by Campbell Community Services.

In addition to the famous rabbit there will also be a surprise appearance that day by a children's favorite TV star.

The hunt and contest will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at John D. Morgan Park.

Over 400 pounds of candy will be given away free in the third annual hunt.

For the bonnet contest, youngsters in three age categories will be judged in such areas as most colorful, most creative, largest, funniest and others.

Registration forms for the contest may be picked up at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave. or you can register that morning.

Merchants withhold rents over conditions of center

Merchants in the Campbell Shopping Center on Winchester Blvd. at Latimer began withholding rent payments last week in a dispute with the owners over the lack of maintenance and repairs to buildings and grounds.

In a letter from the merchants' association attorney, Hugh T. Thompson, to the four shopping center owners, seven specific complaints were notes including damage to the sign, pot holes in the parking lot and buildings requiring a new coat of paint.

Under the lease agreement, Thompson noted, those problems are the responsibility of the owners.

Thompson said he has instructed each tenant to withhold the March rent until serious negotiations begin to resolve the problems.

A meeting was scheduled Thursday, March between Thompson and the 14 tenants.

According to Ole Olszewski of Campbell Jewelers, the maintenance and repair problems have been going on for over two years now. He added that no response has been received yet from the owners.

They include Westside Development Company (Phil Tabrador), J.A. Maffey and Mick Yates, all of San Jose and Barbara Paulsen of Santa Cruz.

Diridon on ABAG plan

County supervisor Rod Diridon is expected to make an important policy statement about the controversial Environmental Management Plan in an appearance before the Campbell Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, March 15 at the luncheon meeting at Zorba's restaurant.

That ABAG proposal, which includes a regional plan for future development, has come in for sharp criticism. Several counties and cities have threatened to withdraw from ABAG in recent weeks.

Diridon will be addressing the local chamber on ABAG (Association of Bay Area Governments) and its function. The supervisor was recently elected ABAG chairman.

The meeting is open to the public and reservations are suggested.

Call the Chamber office at 378-6252.

LEE'S HAS NEW

Medical facility renamed for pioneer

ELABORATE festivities have marked the renaming of one of Santa Clara County's major medical facilities for a man pioneering in the treatment of those with spinal injuries.

Santa Clara Valley Medical Center's nationally renowned spinal injury rehabilitation center was named after Dr. Norman B. Nelson, credited for much of the growth of the sprawling VMC facility, which treated about 140 spinal cases last year.

County, state and federal officials attended the renaming and heard the 65-year-old Nelson say the dream remains to one day do away with unnecessary suffering.

Nelson was county director of medical institutions for 11 years, beginning in 1962.

The spinal unit has been designated as one of 11 regional spinal cord injury centers in the nation.

CITY MAY DO OWN SIDEWALK WORK

The "rock bottom" bids submitted for Campbell's sidewalk repair program weren't low enough and the Public Works Department is looking into having city crews do the work.

At the last City Council session officials voted to reject the bids and will hear a report on the cost of using city personnel for repair work at the next meeting.

The engineer's estimate on the program was $11,344.

The bids received ranged from a low of $26,649 to $28,754. According to staffers, contractors called the bids "rock bottom" prices when contacted after the bid opening.

WATER COMPANY IMPROVEMENTS

The Campbell Water Company recently received permission from the Public Utilities Commission to obtain a loan for $220,000 for capital improvements.

That loan will be handled through Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company.

According to President Homer Hyde, funds will be used to replace older water mains in areas the city has marked for permanent improvement.

The loan does not involve any rate increases.

FREE HOME SECURITY CHECKS

The Campbell Police Department will begin free security checks of local homes on March 20, Sgt. Bob Wallace announced last week.

A police officer (who will show you proper identification) will make an inspection of your home upon request and at your convenience. A follow-up report will tell residents how they can better protect their property.

This project is sponsored by the Crime Prevention Unit of the local department which has been involved in a burglary prevention program for several months.

Anyone who would like an inspection should call 378-8141, ext. 210 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays.

DISTRICT SCIENCE FAIR

The 20th annual Science Fair of the Campbell Union School District gets underway at 10:30 a.m. this Saturday, March 11 at Castlemont School.

Top science projects from the district's 17 schools will be on display and top winners will be announced.

A special attraction of this year's event is a sample of the moon rock from the Apollo 15 lunar mission that will be on display for fair goers.

The sample is on loan from NASA's Ames Research Center.

The 3.9 million year old rock is older than 99.9 per cent of all Earth surface rocks.

CITY SEEKS VOLUNTEER

One of the city's two representatives, Lulu Bowker, recently resigned due to ill health.

The Board conducts the business of the local non-profit organization which provides direct assistance to low-income seniors in the Campbell area.

Regular meetings are held at noon on the second Wednesday of each month and special board meetings are scheduled as needed.

Applicants must reside within the City of Campbell. Deadline is April 1. All those applying will be interviewed by the City Council before a final selection is made.

For application forms or more information stop by City Hall, 75 N. Central ave. or call the City Manager's office at 378-8141 weekdays.

SANITARY BOARD OKAYS IMPROVEMENTS

The Board of Directors of Sanitary District 4 recently approved construction of sanitary sewer mains and new sewers to be constructed along Sunnyside avenue by Campbell prior to repaving and widening that road.

Estimated cost is $30,000.

JARVIS-GANN TO BE STUDIED

Campbell city councilmen have scheduled an informal public hearing for May 15 to hear a report on the financial impact of the Jarvis-Gann Amendment on the city.

CURATOR NAMED

Jeanette Watson has been named Museum Curator by the Campbell City Council.

At the last meeting officials voted unanimously to appoint Watson, who also serves as president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, to that new volunteer position.

For several years the local woman has been acting as unofficial curator of the West Valley Historical Society collection and more recently, the Campbell Historical Museum located downstairs at the Campbell library.

Officials also adopted a resolution spelling out the duties and responsibilities of the new appointive position.

EASTER GIFT FOR SENIORS

O'Connor Hospital is planning a free Easter Sunday dinner, with all the trimmings, and entertainment at a special program for senior citizens.

The March 26 event starts at 12:30 p.m. in the hospital auditorium, 2101 Forest ave., San Jose, adjacent to the hospital in the medical office building.

Anyone who would like to attend should call the hospital office at 298-3900, ext. 230 or 402, to make reservations.

Free transportation will also be provided upon request.

RESIDENTS PROTEST APARTMENT

A petition signed by 33 neighborhood residents was received by the Campbell City Manager's office, protesting plans for an apartment development at 3545-3675 S. Bascom ave.

At the last council session officials voted unanimously that the area remain zoned for high density residential. Earlier, planning commissioners recommended that the present zoning be retained.

At the Tuesday, March 7 meeting of planning commissioners a proposal was to be presented by Paul Consentino and LaCon Builders for a 63-unit apartment complex at 3675 and 3685 S. Bascom ave.

Estimated cost of the system is $891,197.

LABOR MOVEMENT SEMINAR

Collective bargaining will be one of the topics under discussion at a seminar on the labor movement this Saturday, March 11 in room SLA 10 on the Saratoga campus of West Valley College.

The seminar is co-sponsored by the college and the Santa Clara County Central Labor Council.

Registration fee is $6.

For information call 379-9415 weekdays.

STATE RESERVATIONS NOW UNDERWAY

State park campsites and Hearst Castle tour reservations are now being taken eight weeks in advance.

Previously campsites could only be reserved 30 days in advance. According to state parks department spokesmen, the effects of the drought made it impossible to ensure normal campsites would be available more than 30 days in advance.

Application forms for reservations are available at all Ticketron outlets.

SUITE DEDICATED

The new Stahlman Diagnostic Suite of Good Samaritan Hospital was dedicated recently in honor of Dr. Gray E.B. Stahlman, neurosurgeon, who died of lung cancer in 1969.

At the time of his death, a memorial fund was established to help provide a diagnostic center for the radiology department of the hospital, where Dr. Stahlman was an active staff member.

The suite houses the new Computerized Tomography Scanner, new radiological equipment which can produce head and body scans of areas difficult to examine by other, standard, means.

Special program for kids planned

A two member delegation from the Campbell City Council will be meeting with Campbell elementary school district officials in the next month to discuss district plans for the 11 plus acre site of the old Grammar school at Campbell ave. and Winchester.

Last Monday night the council voted to continue consideration of the district's tentative parcel map to the April 6 meeting to allow for that meeting.

Earlier planning department staff met with school officials to voice concern over plans to divide that parcel which would include a narrow strip of property between the district office at 155 N. Third st. and the Civic Center drive intersection. The balance of the land and buildings would be considered for sale.

City planning officials voiced concern over traffic circulation and access under the school district proposal.

City Attorney Bob Dempster advised councilmen they could deny approval of the parcel map if they felt it was not proper.

Campbell has already gone on record as being interested in obtaining the surplus 8 acre site for a neighborhood Center.

$200,000 has been allocated out of 1977-78 federal Housing and Community Development funds for that project.

Dover's dazzling day

Finger painting is fine but J. J. Harsha, 2½, tried the whole hand method. For over four hours the multi-use room of Dover School was transformed into a dizzying array of project centers. Teacher Alice Farnham was project coordinator.

Putting some finishing touches on his caterpillar is Michael Liquori.

Carpentry was one of the special project tables at the Creative Activities Day held recently at Dover School. The Home and School Club - sponsored event also included weaving, plants, candle making, movies and shrink art.

A CRITIC

Editor's note: The wife of the pharmacist, understandably upset over the original story, called to say she felt the information from the state board of pharmacy wasn't fair because it failed to say any of the good things about him. I suggested she express those thoughts in a letter to the editor. She did and I printed it.

I read that story about the dog that killed some chickens in the paper and I wonder if you know what kind of dog it was? I had some chickens killed the same day.

W. CAMPBELL AVE.
RESIDENT

Editor's note: According to a spokesman for the Campbell Police Department it was reportedly a German shepherd. This caller was referred to the police department and later gave a report about the killing of his poultry. Anyone else who has suffered any similar losses or who has information should also contact the department.

Last year there was a report about the high salt content in the local water supply because of the drought. Now, with all this rain, is it back to normal?

A PLANT LOVER

Editor's note: Even during normal runoff years, says Frank Kukuk of the Campbell Water Company, the sodium and chloride content in the treated water will vary somewhat during the year. At the present time, the sodium and chloride content is slightly below the high point of a normal year because of the very generous and welcome rainfall to date. This should continue downward to average normal levels.

I came across these lines a few days ago and I think you'll agree that it suits us all, during these days, don't you?

Teachers are key to education

EDITOR:

Dishonest, unprepared, uninformed seemed to be the way a lot of parents felt about the Campbell elementary school district's administration and board at the public hearing last Tuesday.

It's too bad these parents are not more informed about the educational process. Many of the concerns expressed by the parents deal in areas which are out of the hands of the administration.

Inflation has caused costs to rise as all of us know when we shop for groceries, pay utilities, fill our gas tanks, etc. Is it not reasonable to acknowledge our school district is facing the same rise in costs? The combination of declining enrollment plus inflated costs is disastrous in anyone's budget.

I was amazed not one parent mentioned our teachers with the exception of questioning the justification of terminating young, motivated ones instead of the older unmotivated ones. This is out of the administration's hands. Law demands administration take such action.

I believe the most important part of a good quality education has been overlooked in the minds of the people who oppose school closure and consolidation — our teachers!

I would much rather have my child bused to a school where he or she will be taught by a teacher who is receiving a living wage than have my child remain in a neighborhood school with a teacher whose morale is low because he or she remains being paid the lowest salary in Santa Clara County.

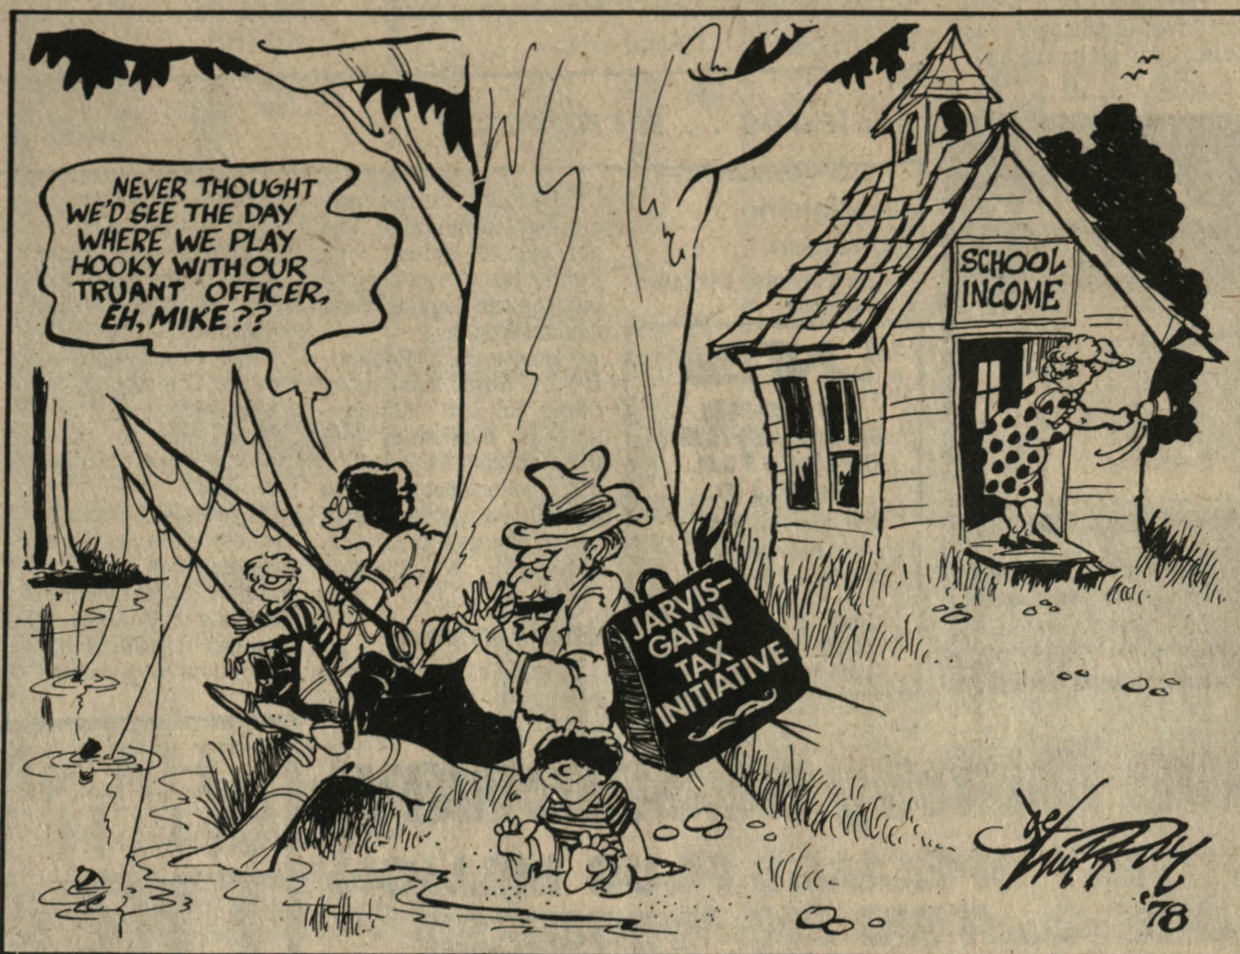

To me our teachers hold the "key" to a quality education, not the building in which education takes place.

Declining enrollment plus inflated costs equals financial trouble.

How can the district give the teachers the raise they so badly need in this financial situation?

I feel the district is doing what they must in order to insure quality education for our children by fairly compensating our teachers who are the most important tool in education.

Let bygones be bygones now, Cap

For Mar. 11 thru Mar. 17

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Backstage forces are at work on your behalf, Ari, so be flexible. Take spotlight when opportunity is presented. Your potential will be put to test. On last day curtain comes down and week ends on key of B, for bow.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You are the beautiful balance of tenderness and strength, Taurus, and this week you are called upon for both. Give gladly and with a generous heart. On last day relax and do a little Irish jig.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): That which is most essential to your happiness cannot be seen with your eyes, Gem. It is only with your heart that you truly see. Study words to Taurus for clue. On last day you catch passing parade.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Test highlighted. Past efforts pay off handsomely.

Tensions diminish as week marches to an abrupt halt. On last day you get a well-deserved pat on the back.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Edgy week ahead, Leo. Don't deliberately provoke just to see sparks fly. Consider possibility that boredom is culprit. As week weaves to a weary close, stay out of the inns and off the sauce.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): That which you desire most is yours for the asking, Virgo. In fact, the whole blame world is at your feet — so quit kicking. On last day try to love friends and forgive enemies. Week ends with a burp.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The present tense is all that's important, Libra, for no one has a lease on tomorrow. So, if you're not near the one you love... then for Pete's sake love someone who is handy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Forget your sins, Scorp, and concentrate on getting rid of your faults, for they are more annoying. Furthermore, your sins are probably not as dramatic and scarlet as you think. Doubtless, they are the colorless sins of inertia and omission.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Do what is necessary to clear your desk, your calendar and your conscience. Saj.

Pisces apt to swim into picture and demand both time and special attention. Some shenanigans on last day can buoy your spirit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Changes highlighted. This is ideal week to let bygones be bygones. Cap. Keep promises made to others and to yourself. You may be offered support/advice/financial backing. Accept, accept.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't over-react to that which seems to threaten your emotional/financial security. Conserv energy for more worthwhile project toward end of week. On last day you get a bad case of the sillies.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): In light of recent events, documents may need to be re-examined. Keep promises, appointments and deadlines. Unusually busy week ends with a snort. And then some!

a close look at the laws prohibiting cockfighting and decided to amend and tighten the restrictions and punishments against that ancient sport.

Senator Alan Robbins, D-Van Nuys, has introduced SB 1597 that prescribes maximum imprisonment of a year and a day, and fines not to exceed $50,000 for persons convicted of engaging in cockfighting.

facilities left behind in the wake of a declining school enrollment are the object of a study being conducted by the Little Hoover Commission.

The commission, noted for its frugal budget, in-depth reports and lengthy official title has already spent several months on the report.

Les Halcomb, executive director of the Sacramento-based study group, remarked that the committee studying the problem of the "extra" school buildings had a few more months of work ahead.

Reduce legislature?

A constitutional amendment to reduce the size of the state Legislature by ten percent has been introduced to the state Senate. The measure, by Senator Alan Robbins, would cut four seats from the Assembly in 1982, and another four in 1992. Two Senate seats would be eliminated concurrently in each instance.

Robbins said the state could save $6 million per year in salaries. He projects additional savings from the state budget due to a decreased number of proposed laws and allocations.

At present there are 40 Senate and 80 Assembly members.

nutrition notes

By DOROTHY TERRILL

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dorothy Terrill, a registered dietitian and instructor at De Anza College, holds an M.S. in nutrition from UC-Berkeley. Questions about nutrition are invited. Address all questions to: Dorothy Terrill, Nutrition Notes, Suburban Newspaper Publications Inc., P.O. Box 368, Cupertino, 95014. Mrs. Terrill will answer questions as space allows.

A current TV advertisement depicts two young brothers sitting side-by-side on a couch (presumably watching TV) with the younger sucking his thumb. The older one says, "stop sucking your thumb and suck Lifesavers instead." To replace one bad habit with another hardly seems like ethical advice. Advertisements such as this make it seem reasonable to seek some controls over the advertising of sugary items on children's TV programs.

February 28 the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) voted to do just that. Recommendations which had been made by the staff of the FTC included a ban of all TV ads directed at very young children, ban ads of sugared products most likely to cause tooth decay which are aimed at children under the age of 12, and require that TV ads to children under the age of 12 for other sugared products be balanced by separate dental and nutritional messages.

The FTC said last week that they would agree to rules weaker than the outright ban on the advertising of sugary products but that regulations controlling TV advertising on children's programs will be written. The original hope among consumer groups was to ban advertising of foods with a high sugar content completely. However, as happens in many such cases, the consumer has to be content with something less than that requested.

The issue of whether or not to attempt control of advertising aimed at children was brought to the FTC's attention formally by petitions submitted by Action for Children's Television (ACT) and the Center for Science in the Public Interest (CSPI). The CSPI has also urged the Food and Drug Administration to require food manufacturers to list the percentage of sugar added to their products and to require a warning label on products providing more than 10% of calories from added sugar.

The cereal industry has been trying to dissociate their products from candy and other sweet snack products. However, with some pre-sweetened cereals having as much as 70% sugar in them, putting pre-sweetened cereals in the same category as candy makes sense. The American Dental Association has particularly attacked the pre-sweetened cereals since they are consumed both at breakfast and as snacks. Since Americans spend about $3 billion annually to repair rotten teeth, dental decay is no trivial matter.

Along with seeking control of sugary advertisements, the CSPI recently requested that ads for foods of high-fat content also be banned on children's TV programs. Their concern is that ads for sugary foods may be replaced by more ads for cheeseburgers, ice cream, milk chocolate, potato chips, American cheese, luncheon meats, doughnuts, apple pie, French fries, and frankfurters — all high-fat foods. They also noted that the low-fat animal products are rarely advertised. While children may not be in immediate danger from heart disease or diet-related cancers, there is concern that childhood diet may have some effect on later diseases and certainly on the establishment of life time eating habits.

Should the government take some regulatory action to limit what is available for children to watch on TV or is it the parents' responsibility to monitor what they want their children to watch? As most parents who read this will undoubtedly agree, it is difficult enough to select which programs are considered suitable without having to worry about what potential ads may be shown. Since the use of good judgment by the food and advertising industries as to what they promote for young eyes and ears to see and hear is questionable, it would appear that regulation is needed. When advertisers promote replacing one bad habit — thumb sucking — with another — sucking on candy — it appears that the time for regulation by a government agency is here.

bronze-plated bell Johnston offered to do the job gratis. That five-month project was completed last week. Eventual plans call for locating the bell in a glass case in the new fire station when it is constructed. (Photography by Amy Huntoon)

Booters fall to Cubberly

THE CAMPBELL high school soccer team may have wound up with one of the best records in the Central Coast Section this year, but Buccaneer head coach Jim Wolcott still feels it could have been better. "I think we peaked in the Blackford tourney," said Wolcott, who guided his team to a 13-3 record and a berth in the CCS play-offs. "I think that was our problem, peaking too early."

The Bucs started the season off with a bang, winning the Blackford tournament and breezing into their West Valley Athletic League opener against defending champion Leigh with a spotless 7-0 record.

Even a 5-1 loss to the Longhorns in their opener failed to slow the Bucs, who rebounded to win their next six games in a row.

But Campbell lost its regular season finale to Del Mar 1-0, costing the Bucs a share of the WVAL championship.

Bucs end up with one of best marks in CCS

Wolcott's crew then suffered a 2-1 overtime loss to Cubberly to end their season on a disappointing note.

"I wasn't pleased with the way we ended our season," remarked Wolcott. "We should have done better, but I guess you can't win them all."

Campbell began the season as though it was going to win them all, however.

In addition to pre-season victories over Sunnyvale (4-1), Andrew Hill (4-1) and defending Mt. Hamilton Athletic League champion Piedmont Hills (6-1), the Bucs posted tournament wins over Cupertino (4-1), Wilcox (4-1) and Buchser (2-1).

In the tournament finals, Campbell defeated old WVAL rival Saratoga 1-0 on a goal by forward Ken Trevaskis, on an assist by bullback Dave Sasser.

Wolcott considered the win over

Saratoga the high point of Campbell's season.

After losing to Leigh, the Bucs recorded consecutive league triumphs over West (4-0), Branham (4-0), Los Gatos (2-1), Blackford (2-1), Camden (5-3) and Prospect (2-0) before falling to Del Mar.

Against Cubberly in the CCS quarter-finals, Campbell pushed the game into overtime on a goal by Glen Gray before eventually losing.

Trevaskis, who was tabbed to a first team all-league spot, was the Bucs' leading scorer this season with 18 goals and six assists.

Rick Fournier, a second team all-league forward, tallied 14 goals and assisted on eight others.

GRAY CHIPPED in with five goals and three assists on the year while Phil Reed netted three goals and had six assists. Reed was picked to a second team mid-field position on the all-league squad.

Paul Hendricks, Jackie Murdick and Craig Rhodes all scored one goal. Campbell outscored its opponents 43-19 in 1977-78.

Goalie Dave Salvano, a first team all-league pick, spearheaded the Campbell defense.

The Buccaneers' starting line-up was composed of forwards Trevaskis, Fournier, Hendricks and Gray; halfbacks Reed, Rhodes and Kevin Keefe; fullbacks Sasser, Murdick, Rich Powell and Brian Munoz; and goalie Salvano.

"The kids played really well this season," praised Wolcott. "They were championship caliber."

Russo MVP of cage league

JOHN RUSSO, WHO LED the Leigh Longhorns to the regular season championship in the West Valley Athletic League, was tabbed the WVAL's Most Valuable Player last week at the loop's annual all-league meeting, conducted by the league's coaches.

Russo, a second team all-leaguer as a sophomore and a first teamer as a junior, was second in the league in scoring to Blackford's Tim Stanton and was the key player in Leigh's sparkling 13-1 regular season record.

Joining Russo on the first team were Prospect's Stan Kazmierczak and Nick Seroff, Leigh's Darryl Monk and Branham's Roger Samuels.

Earning second team honors were Stanton, Del Mar's Sean Nalty and David Davis, Los Gatos' Dan Vaughn and Leigh's John Shepardon.

Honorable mention plaudits went to Westmont's Alan Elliott, Mike Larsen and Art Day; Del Mar's Bruce Minor, Tom Bell and Jim Quilici; Camden's Kirk Perry and Jeff Littfin; Los Gatos' Pete Denevi; and Blackford's John Rossi.

Vikes fly high without Oravetz

MEN'S TRACK
Last season, the strongest event for the West Valley College track and field team had to be the pole vault, with national record setter Steve Oravetz (Campbell) leading the way.

Oravetz has moved on now, but the Vikings remain as a powerhouse in the pole vault with four 16 footers and one more who has been over 15 feet flying over the West Valley bar.

Jerry Mulligan, Doug Searle (Camden), Rick Vasquez (Camden) and Todd Lovejoy (Del Mar) are each 16' vaulters this year for the Vikings and Blake Fearnside (Del Mar) is close behind with a best of 15'4".

Wayne Gray (Campbell), Rob Fisher (Blackford) and Bret Woods (Los Gatos) are top long jumpers for WVC and Don Brown (Camden) and Dan Sheehan (Prospect) are among the Vike leaders in the weights. Sheehan, Gray and Jim Barnett (Camden) are top decathletes for the Vikings.

Rick Howell (Del Mar) and Keith Sturdivant (Leigh) are two notch returners in the hurdles. Paul Caruso (Prospect), Gene Antone and Tim Stafford (Los Gatos) are other fine West Valley hurdlers.

Gray leads Valley in the quarter and Fisher and Rick Hoffman (Westmont) are top sprinters. Todd Baker (Westmont) is a top Viking distance runner.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
Michele Townsend (Camden) poured in 18 points and ripped down 20 rebounds to lead the West Valley women's basketball team to a 45-40 Golden Gate Conference win over Foot-hill last week.

Two days later Cindy Meyers (Camden) hauled in 17 rebounds to pace the Vikings to an easy 44-27 victory over Chabot. Kathy Donecho (Campbell) played well in each Vike win.

BASEBALL
Mark Bersano (Los Gatos) tossed an eight, hitter and Bob Boyd (Leigh) scored the game-winning run as West Valley nipped Chabot 5-4 last week in the Viking GGC opener.

WOMEN'S TRACK
Denise Holloway (Blackford) placed first in the shot put and discus and Nancy O'Connell (Campbell) won the 100 meter hurdles and ran on four place winning relay teams.

'Young' Panthers set for WVAL

Wheelchair basketball tourney
THE 1978 Far West Section Wheelchair basketball tournament will be held on March 10-12 at De Anza College in Cupertino with the preliminaries on Friday and Saturday and the consolation and championship finals on Sunday.

Competition will begin at 6 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. The donations are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

For further information contact Barbara Deem-Petralia or Jim Haynes at 996-4594.

THERE'S A LOT of experience on the left side of the infield at Prospect high school this season. But, unfortunately for the Panthers, that's about the extent of their experience!

Prospect will field a young team this spring in the West Valley Athletic League baseball race with Mike Cetinich and Mick Speciale, each back for their third varsity seasons, leading the Panther charge.

"We are going to be young," admitted Prospect coach Bob Osborne, starting his sixth year at the Panther helm. "Much of the success of the team depends on filling in key positions with young players."

Cetinich is back for another season at third base and Speciale returns for another year as an "outstanding defensive" shortstop.

The two are among just four lettermen on the Panther roster this spring. Pitcher George Thrum, who will also see time in the outfield, and outfielder-first baseman Paul Guenther round out the quartet of Prospect returners.

Tim Fleury, just a sophomore, is a pitcher-outfielder who looks like an outstanding prospect for the Panthers and "should be our center fielder," according to Osborne.

Juniors up from the frosh-soph looking for starting spots for Prospect are first baseman-pitcher Jim Diaz, infielder-infielder John Akeman, pitcher-infielder Phil Rebboah and pitcher-outfielder Coley Williams.

"Our strength will be our defense," said Osborne of his 1978 club. "But our weakness will be question marks in key positions."

Prospect finished last in the WVAL last year with a 2-11 record but the Panthers are looking for a middle of the pack finish this year.

Osborne rates Campbell and Leigh as the co-favorites for titles honors this spring in the WVAL.

The Panthers will open the 1978 year in the Lion's Easter Tournament this weekend before hosting Cubberly on Tuesday, March 14, at 3:15 p.m.

Kid's learn-to-swim program at Prospect

THE SOUTHWEST YMCA is offering a learn-to-swim program on March 18-24 for boys and girls in grades one to six at the Prospect high school pool.

A special registration and testing day is set for Saturday, March 18, beginning at noon at Prospect. Grade one testing will begin at noon with grade two at 12:45 p.m., grade three at 1:30 p.m., grade four at 2:15 p.m. and grades five and six at 2:45 p.m.

Half hour lessons will then be held Monday through Friday afternoons, March 20-24.

For further information, or an application, call the Southwest YMCA at 356-7126 or stop by the YMCA office at 16500 West Mozart Ave. in Los Gatos. Applications will also be available at the Prospect pool on March 18.

Ski reports on KNBR

KNBR radio will broadcast ski reports for the remainder of the ski season Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Sunday ski reports will include road condition reports.

Blackford players, coach share rookie status in '78

ROOKIE BASEBALL coach Bruce Abell has a lot in common with his Blackford Brave diamond team this spring — they're all rookies!

Abell will enter his first year at the helm of the Braves with a large crop of first year varsity players.

Actually, one Blackford letterman will lead the Braves into action this season, but he's really a rookie since he played only half a season with the varsity in 1977.

Payne is a first sacker who hit .330 last year for the Braves for the last half of the year. Over the first half of the 1977 campaign he hit a lofty .625 for the Blackford frosh-soph.

Blackford's roster will be made up basically of players from last year's Brave frosh-soph team.

Greg Takaki and Ken Gomes, both 6-2 last year for the frosh-soph, will lead the Blackford mound corps this season along with newcomers Jeff Krogen and senior southpaw Bob Jacques.

"Our pitching is questionable, though, due to lack of varsity experience," admitted Abell.

Krogen, Jacques and Gomes are also top candidates in the outfield for Blackford along with Jim Rhodes.

Steve Cantor will handle the catching chores with Randy Soto at second base, Mike Healy at third and Takaki at shortstop. Jeff Bouchard will also see action at second and short.

The Braves lack strength on the bench this season. "We're very weak in reserves," according to Abell, who will be assisted this spring by former Brave player Mike Haugh.

Blackford finished the 1977 season in second place in the West Valley Athletic League with a 13-3 record, but Abell figures his club for a middle of the pack finish this year. The coach rates Campbell and Los Gatos as the league title favorites.

Campbell still holds record for Campbell

WEST VALLEY College track and field coach Bill Campbell has watched many record setters come and go over the years as the oval boss at both Westmont high school and West Valley.

But there's one record that Campbell hasn't seen fall in all his years as a coach — his own 100 yard dash record in the West Valley Athletic League.

Campbell set the league record in the century in 1959 when he breezed to a 9.8 in the 100 as a runner for Campbell high school.

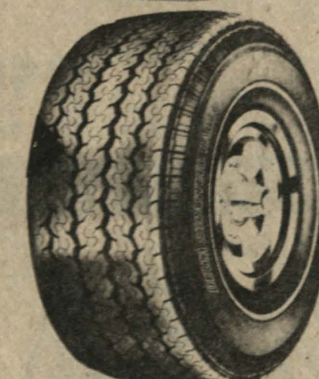

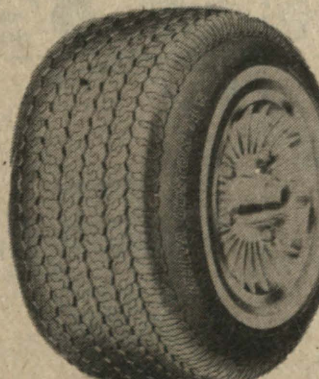

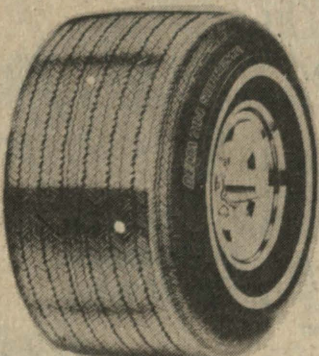

The time was excellent for the era, proven over the years by its long standing as a WVAL record. Campbell's 9.8 is the oldest WVAL standard.

Try-outs reslated

THE CAMPBELL Pony League try-outs scheduled for last weekend were rained out. Try-outs will be held Saturday and players should report at their assigned times. For newcomers, try-outs will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. Team assignments will also be made at that time.

Try-outs will be held at Morgan Park.

Fire station pact near

Officials in the Cambrian School District are drafting an agreement that will allow Campbell to use the Cambrian Fire Station at the corner of Curtner and Bascom ave. for two years at a fee of $1 a year.

The school board recently voted unanimously to okay an agreement with the city which will allow Campbell to set up its third engine company before construction of two new fire stations is completed.

Effective date of the lease will be July 1, 1978.

Under a deed restriction placed on that property, control of the land reverted to the school district when it was no longer used for a fire station.

When San Jose Fire Department took over service of that area last year they closed down the station. Central Fire District, which formerly manned the station, has been using it for storage since the closure.

That agreement between Central and the school district expires June 30.

Under a proposal outlined by Fire Chief Gene Borden last year Campbell will first relocate the Central ave. fire station to a new station to be built across from the Pruneyard on Campbell avenue.

At a later date, a satellite station is to be built on the west side of town.

GETTING IN SOME stomping in preparation for the Bluegrass extravaganza this Saturday, March 11 in Campbell are members of the Foggy Mountain Cloggers. They, and the New Bear Creek Boys, Okum and the Colby Mt. String Band, plus many more, will perform beginning at 2 p.m. this Saturday in the Campbell High School auditorium, 1 W. Campbell ave. Admission to the nine-hour jamboree is $4 for adults, $1 for seniors and children and $2 for student body card holders. Proceeds of the event will go to the California Bluegrass Association.
